

Bracken

My husband and I have fostered Bracken for the last month and in that time have grown to love her. She is affectionate, loyal and well behaved. (

what a difference from when we first got her) She's still got a few faults to iron outShe dislikes some dogs and is quite bitchy, she pulls on the lead, but is content with one walk a day and then and let out in the garden.

She is clever and easy to train and is now house-trained, she only wants to please.

We would like to keep Bracken ourselves but we are not in good health especially for walking, and Bracken still being a young dog deserves a younger owner who can take her for longer walks.
